

Update from The Chick Family – March 2010

Hello once more,

Yep, we made it back in one piece. Actually without all the pieces. We ended up with more than would fit in our allowed suitcases. Fortunately our good friends from Georgia are coming to help their daughter move back to the USA. They've kindly agreed to bring the extra bags with them. The last few items I'll pick up at our Cary office when I'm in the USA for Geek Week in May. Whew, it should all get here eventually. With the new airline rules its becoming more and more difficult.

This is our first week back at the office. It's been interesting. It's hard to get back into the 8 to 5 time scheme once more. Perhaps I can chalk it all up to jet lag. Things are busy as can be and changing right and left. But that's another story.

I'll do my best to keep making comments on my blog on a more regular basis. I'll also post our prayer letters on line as they are ready. (You can click on the links to go to these places.) And who knows I might post some more photos when the occasion arises.

Drop us a note now and then and let us know what's been happening with you now that we're here and can't stop by for a visit.

Keep pressing forward and standing strong in the Lord.

In Christ,
Papa Chick
